Your workshop

Why accept that all goes quiet in the summer months? Why not use that time to prepare for further growth and prosperity?

We are offering you and your team a half day workshop, run by Claire Scaramanga MBA at your offices, to work through ideas and solutions to your most pressing marketing issues.

You decide what you want to brainstorm. It could be:

- Take to market plan for new products or services
- Explore new market opportunities
- Reposition yourself in the market to stand out from competitors
- Give your sales messages more impact
- Get more from your marketing budget

After the workshop, we will send a written report of the workshop conclusions and next steps.
